

INTERESTING STATISTICS

1. What is the most shoplifted book?
2. An average of 102 people a day visit the Dr. Pepper museum in Waco Texas.
3. The largest painting on the earth is a 72 437 square foot smiley face.
4. At this moment there are nearly 2 000 thunderstorms taking place around the world.
5. Accidents rise 10% in the first week of daylight saving time.
6. Iceland consumes more Coca Cola. per capita than any other nation on earth.
7. 3 000 out of every 3 001 calico kittens are born female.
8. It takes 3 000 cows to supply the NFL with enough leather for a year's supply of footballs.
9. 35% of the people who use personal ads for dating are already married.
10. The average caterpillar has 2 000 muscles in its body. The average human has less than 700.
11. If your stomach didn't produce a new layer of mucous every two weeks, it would digest itself.
12. The top reasons for being late for work: 1) traffic, 2) oversleeping, 3) procrastination, 4) household chores, 5) car problems
13. The average US teenage girl owns 7 pairs of jeans.
14. Male hospital patients fall out of bed twice as often as female patients.
15. 55% of the world's milk drinkers, drink goat's milk.
16. In their first year of life puppies grow 10 times faster than human infants do.
17. More collect calls are made on Father's day than on any other day of the year.
18. On just one square inch of your skin, there are 20 million microscopic animals.
19. Studies say that 4 year olds believe in Santa Claus, more than any other age group.
20. It takes 6 months to build a Rolls Royce and 13 hours to build a Toyota.
21. There are an average of 178 sesame seeds on a McDonald's Big Mac bun.
22. The world's termites out weigh the world's humans 10 to 1.
23. The average Jeopardy winner takes home $11 500 per show.
24. When do shoplifters take the most stuff? Between 3 and 6 pm on Friday and Sunday.
25. 24% of Americans say the world "was in better shape a thousand years ago."

MYSTERY GRAPHS

MYSTERY GRAPHS

MISLEADING STATISTICS

On a separate piece of paper write a few sentences on why you think that the following statistics are misleading. THIS IS DUE TOMORROW.

1. Because more accidents occur at home than on the highways, one is safer on a highway than at home.
2. Because most automobile accidents occur within 5 miles of the driver's home, one does not have to drive as careful when one is away from home.
3. Lisa will receive an A on her next mathematics test because she has received an A on each of her last five tests.
4. It is more dangerous to travel by airplane in 1995 than 1935 because more people were killed in airplane accidents in 1995 than in 1935.
5. Everyone who used Purin recovered from a cold in one week. Therefore Purin is a cure for colds.
6. You will live longer if you don't spend as much time in bed since more people die in bed than anywhere else.
7. 4 out of 5 dentists prefer Crest.
8. In a blind taste test 9 out of 10 people chose Pepsi over Coke. (FYI - Apparently Pepsi was served at a cooler temperature than Coke during these tests HMMMMMMMM!)